

The Data-Driven Decision-Making Institute and Working Family Success Model

Service Area Maps produced for Communities Foundation of Texas

ABOUT

The following document contains eight maps, at two scales, representing the geographic area served by the nonprofit organizations participating in Communities Foundation of Texas' (CFT) Data-Driven Decision-Making Institute (D3) and Working Family Success Model's Blue and Green Cohorts.

In partnership with CFT, buildingcommunityWORKSHOP [bc] gathered information from the nonprofit organizations that have participated in each project. Data gathered from each nonprofit was used to generate the maps found in the remainder of this document, from the specific locations of administrative and program sites to the geographic areas used to determine client eligibility.

Maps from pages 02 to 05 show the full regional scope of participating organizations, spanning thirty counties across North Texas. At a smaller scale, maps on pages 06 through 09 focus more closely on Dallas, Denton, Collin, and Tarrant counties. Additionally, these maps show the additional relationship between areas served by area nonprofits and the physical locations where services are administered.

Program Service Areas

All Programs

The nonprofit organizations that have participated in the Data-Driven Decision-making Institute and Working Family Success Model programs serve across thirty counties in North Texas, with a majority of organizations only working in Dallas, Collin, Denton, and Tarrant counties. The Catholic Charities in Fort Worth and Dallas both serve the same areas as their respective dioceses.

Administration locations, some of which may also serve as program or service sites, are shown on the map. These organizations are mostly located in Dallas County, with few in Denton and Collin counties and a number across Tarrant County.
